40 Marchers Arrested In Katanga

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga (UPI) — Police today arrested 40 demonstrators who shouted "down with Provincial Premier Moise Tshombe" and "vive Hammarskjold" today as they marched toward the Union Miniere guest house where U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold is staying.

Parents Of Powers Land In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—The parents of U-2 pilot Francis G. Powers landed here today, "hoping and praying" for a happy outcome to his trial on spy charges.

Oliver and Ida Powers arrived by British airliner at 6:25 a.m., 55 minutes late because of unforeseen delays. They were accompanied by Mrs. Powers' physician, Dr. Lewis Ingram, and Sol Curie, a family friend.

U.S. consular official Richard Snyder and a crowd of American and Russian newsmen were waiting at the field when the plane landed.

Good Evening!

S.O. Subbing For GGO

Today's the big one.

The Levittown American Little League plays for the state championship. Not since Morrisville copped the Little League National championship has there been such excitement in the area.

And the foreign radio announcer sounded awed when he said that Levittown had six Little Leagues.

And in the past 24 hours the United States has been scoring spectacular space achievements. Does this mean we are finally catching up?

The big victory will be to the country who puts the first man in space. Anyway we're on the move.

Katanga officials were cordial as the U. N. moved in to occupy the country.

This entire Congo operation may do more for the prestige of the U. N. than anything else. Thus far it has been handled with speed, diplomacy and great effectiveness.

Here it is the weekend and at this writing the weather outside looks terrible.

Unless it clears up it will interfere with the barbecuing and what will the grocery stores do with all those hamburger and frankfurter rolls.

Can't beat the pros.

That aerial combo of Johnny Unitas and Lenny Moore too much for the College All-Stars. Change of pace on TV a welcome sight last night.

The grass in the next yard is greener because they have no children.

"Could you give me some pointers on how to run a newspaper?" the new reporter asked the publisher.

"You came to the wrong person," the publisher said. "Ask any one of my subscribers."

Go to church.

Tough Katangese police rushed into action against the demonstration by members of a group opposing Tshombe just as they left their headquarters enroute to Hammarskjold's residence.

Hammarskjold and Tshombe met again today after exchanging views on the Congo situation yesterday.

This morning, Deputy U. N. Force Commander Gen. Ben Hammon Kittani of Morocco and Indian Brig. Gen. I. J. Rikhye, who accompanied Hammarskjold here Friday, summoned two top Belgian military commanders for talks.

Serious negotiations between Hammarskjold and Tshombe on the implementation of the U.N. resolution calling for U. N. troops to take over the secession-minded province began this morning at Tshombe's residence.

In Leopoldville, Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba warned that he was under pressure to send his own troops into the rebellious Katanga unless U. N. troops were sent there immediately. He said some of his army officers wanted to go into Katanga immediately along with Guinean and Ghanaian soldiers to quell Katanga's secessionist tendencies.

He accused the U. N. of dragging its feet and charged that Hammarskjold "under Belgian pressure" wanted to send only white troops into the province.

"Only African soldiers can prevent bloodshed in the Katanga," Lumumba said. "The Katanga population does not have trust in Swedish soldiers."

Tshombe was said to be insisting that U. N. troops must be on hand, ready to take over at once, before the Belgians begin the troop withdrawal demanded by the U. N. Security Council.

Ike Drives To Gettysburg

THURMONT, Md. (UPI)—President Eisenhower, rained out of a golf game, drove to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm today to inspect his prize Aberdeen Angus cattle and look over his crops.

The President, spending a week end at the presidential mountain hideaway, Camp David, had planned an early golf game at Gettysburg Country Club but was balked by grey, drizzling weather.

At 9:50 a.m. e.d.t., he gave up on his golf prospects. But showed up at the farm near the Gettysburg battlefield. The cattle were in the barn and the President was able to get his first look at them since the July 4 weekend, when he was last in the area.

Despite the continuing rain he was able also to get some view of the fields. They were looking good. The corn was high, the clover lush.

Weather Okay, LL Games On

Little League Headquarters in Williamsport in response to a telephone call from the Courier-Times at 10 o'clock this morning reported that the weather was fine in Williamsport and the games were going on as scheduled.

Stairway To Championship?

Levittown's Arthur N. Krespach greets well wishers while standing on "The Golden Stairs" in front of the Sheraton Hotel, Soap Box Derby Headquarters

Lower Bucks Soap Box Derby King Walking On Air, Ready For Big Race

By KAY BLINCOE
Courier-Times Staff Writer

AKRON, Ohio — The rubber city is really bouncing.

The Soap Box Derby boys have taken the town by storm. Everyone in Rubbertown is having a blow out.

Levittown's Art Krespach, Lower Bucks County Soap Box Derby King arrived in this race-rabit town Thursday by air. He's been walking on that substance ever since.

Police Escort

A police escort led the local champion into derby headquarters at the Sheraton Hotel. A band blared as he climbed the golden stairs at the hotel and was bussed by two pert Ohio misses.

After a whirlwind registration he was whisked away to Derbytown, a Y.M.C.A. Camp, where he will spend four never-to-be-forgotten days here in Akron.

The 15-year-old Levittowner spent yesterday at Derby Downs where the 23rd All-American Soap Box Derby will be run tomorrow. His racer was checked out by the official inspection team and he took his trial run down the championship ramp.

Ready For Race

He's ready for the race. And, if public popularity is any indication, our boy has a real good chance of walking off — or rather riding off — to the championship.

Many persons stopped by Art's Courier-Times special racer at topside at Derby Downs yesterday watching the local king spin his wheels in readiness for his trial run. He and the car will appear on many a motion picture screen and in snapshots, if the pictures taken turn out well.

Here in Akron with me are Art's parents and Robert Hisey, Lower Bucks County Soap Box Derby director. We'll all be sitting in Art's corner during the big race tomorrow that means a $5,000 college scholarship to the winner.

The parents, press and sponsors are here at Derby Headquarters at the hotel. Expected to arrive tomorrow in high style are Dale Robertson Jim Hardy of TV's "Wells Fargo", Singer Andy Williams, and Craig Stevens (TV's "Peter Gunn").

These three stellar gents will compete tomorrow in the tradition Oil Can Derby for celebrities.

But today, the stars will entertain the 168 local champions at Derbytown. At noon today the boys will be served a luncheon by Akron businessmen and civic leaders. Here, they'll be presented with their championship wrist watches.

In 25th Heat

Art is ready for the race, not over-confident, but completely ready. He'll race in the 25th heat against cars from Amarillo, Tex. and Mansfield, Ohio. There are 56 heats in the first round.

The local champ's car is a slick one — most anyone here can tell you that. Other slick ones observed were from Muncie and Anderson, Ind. One of the most unusual is the entry from Charleston, W. Va.

Balloon Put In Orbit, X-15 Sets Record

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — America ripped a page from science fiction and made it read as gospel yesterday in an historic five-way assault on space with man and missiles.

Before the biggest day in space history was over, U.S. scientists working from coast to coast had:

—Sent the world's first communications satellite, a 10 story Echo I balloon, into orbit around earth and used it to bounce President Eisenhower's voice across the continent from 1,000 miles up.

—Announced that, fresh on the heels of the first recovery of a data capsule from a satellite—Discoverer XIII—in orbit, they plan to send a chimpanzee into space and back, possibly within a month.

—Sent an Air Force test pilot in the rocket-powered X-15 to a world altitude record of 131,000 feet.

—Fired an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile carrying a batch of radiation study experiments 5,000 miles over the Atlantic in another step to improve the nation's only war-ready ICBM.

—Launched the Navy's Poseidon missile on a flight of more than 1,000 miles over the Atlantic, and moved the rocket a day closer to an October date when it will be nuclear-tipped and loaded aboard atomic submarines.

Four Smaller Launchings

In between, the Air Force managed four other smaller launchings — three with its Bomarc intercepter missile and one with its sleek little Hound Dog, fired from a B-52 bomber on a 450-mile flight.

It added up to the busiest, most spectacular one-day show of missile power and space ability ever put on by the United States.

The giant Echo balloon is circling earth about once every two hours today as the largest man-made object ever thrown into space. It can be seen by nearly every nation, including Russia, as it whips through the sky at 16,000 miles per hour.

After more technical troubles had threatened to delay it, the satellite — eighth success of the year for the U.S. against one for Russia — was sent into orbit aboard a Thor-Delta rocket from the cape.

Anchors Radio Network

The coast-to-coast experiment which bounced the President's tape-recorded voice from a satellite showed Echo's feasibility as the anchor to a global communications network.

A series of Echo-type satellites could mean that, by 1970, all nations would be connected by instantaneous worldwide television and almost unlimited radio communications.

The successful recovery of the capsule from the Discoverer, fired into orbit Wednesday as America's seventh satellite success of the year, paved the way for the Air Force's announcement (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Cloudy Skies, Showers Forecast For Weekend

By United Press International
Mostly cloudy skies and occasional showers and thundershowers were forecast for Pennsylvania tonight and tomorrow.

Temperatures tonight will be relatively pleasant with the low in the 60's except in the upper 50's in the northern counties.

Sunday will be warmer with the high in the mid and upper 80's in all sections of the state.

The dominant factor in the state's weather pattern is a low pressure trough extending across North Carolina and Kentucky which is expected to move into Virginia.

An area of cloudiness to the north of this system will linger through the state until Sunday.

Nine Killed In Head-On Collision

READING, Minn. (UPI)—Nine persons were killed and one was injured critically early today in a head-on collision on a straight stretch of highway near this southwestern Minnesota village.

Nobles County sheriff's officers identified victims in one of the cars as Mr. and Mrs. John Voss, Mrs. Matt Gerber, Mrs. John Shroer and Mrs. Ted Voss, all of whom died in the crash, and Mrs. Larry Bunkers, who died at a Worthington, Minn., hospital. All six persons in the car were from Wmmt, Minn.

The only survivor, Mrs. Ernie Lueck, 36, of Wilmont, Minn., was in critical condition at Worthington with head and chest injuries.

One of the vehicles, carrying three persons, was registered to Lauren D. Murray, of Sibley, Iowa, who was believed to have been driving. Other passengers in the Iowa car were identified tentatively as Mr. and Mrs. Joe Buchman, also of Sibley.

The other car carried seven persons, all believed to have been on their way home to Wilmont from night work at the Campbell Soup Company plant at Worthington, 14 miles southeast in Nobles County.

Police said impact of the crash left the two demolished cars 100 yards apart on opposite sides of the road.

The accident occurred about 15 miles south of Slayton, Minn., where 13 persons died April 21, 1949, in one of the nation's worst auto accidents.

Firemen Win Battle Against Ship Blaze

DEN HELDER, The Netherlands (UPI)—Firemen won a six-hour battle Friday night against a ship fire that threatened to set off nine tons of high explosives. The Argentine freighter Rio Diamante came into port with two of its holds afire. They contained tires and other freight, and were separated from the explosives cargo.

Two naval tugs brought firemen aboard the ship. The decks above the burning holds glowed red hot but firemen poured water on the munitions hold to keep the temperature down while others put out the blaze.

Sex Maniac Nabs 2 Tots

A man who raped a six-year-old Trenton girl yesterday after he abducted the youngster and her three-year-old sister at a city playground is being hunted down by police in a 15-state alarm.

The six-year-old girl was admitted to St. Francis Hospital in Trenton yesterday afternoon seriously injured and suffering from shock.

An official examination was given by Dr. George Horowitz, police surgeon. The younger child was not harmed.

According to authorities, the assailant, described as a white male in his early 30's or late 20's, was seen before the crime at the Kearney Homes' Playground, Union St. and John Fitch Way pushing the two youngsters on swings.

Pills Being Tested By Police

'Sleeping Beauty' Sisters Taken From Parents In Bizarre Case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Bottles and packets of pills found at the home of the "sleeping beauty" sisters were tested by police today to determine if they are the barbiturates which put the two girls into long comas.

The case, which received worldwide attention, had stumped the medical profession for months.

Denies Giving Drugs

The father, Vincent, denied that either he or his wife, Lillian, 29, had given drugs to the girls. "We feel we are getting blamed for giving them barbiturates," he said. "Neither I nor my wife have ever given them any barbiturates or medicine of any kind at the hospital."

The break came in the mys-

Club Selects Winner Of Scholarship

Willard Calkins, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee of Exchange Club of Levittown announced today that Miss Sharon Konkle of 6 Granite Road, Levittown, was selected as the winner of the Exchange Club's first nursing scholarship.

Calkins said that Miss Konkle was selected from a group consisting of applicants from all of the Levittown area high schools. She graduated in June from Woodrow Wilson High School and plans to attend the Temple University Hospital Nursing School this fall.

The Scholarship Committee was recently appointed by Arthur Doyle, President and consists of Willard Calkins, Assistant Cashier of The Philadelphia National Bank, as Chairman, Daniel Erhard, M.D., Charles Flack, O.D., Daniel Miller, Keystone Pencil Company, Mrs. Mary Ancher, Administrator of Lower Bucks County Hospital, and Mrs. Rita Flack, member of the Board of Directors of Delaware Valley Hospital and Chairman of Fund-Raising and Publicity for Delaware Valley Hospital.

The Exchange Club of Levittown recently established this nursing scholarship program in recognition of the shortage of registered nurses in the Levittown area. The scholarship program calls for an award each year to a deserving student, each award covering the full three year course.

This scholarship is entirely supported by the Exchange Club of Levittown's annual fund-raising endeavors.

Welcoming A New Industrial Park

State, county and industrial leaders welcomed Skyron Aero Industrial Park to Bucks County this week. Here, looking at a $250,000 machine which will manufacture small items at a fast rate of speed are (from left) Marc E. Chaff, president of Kenart Devices and developer of the park; Richard W. Fechtenburg, chairman of the Bucks County Planning Commission; State Senator Marvin V. Keller; Assemblyman James J. A. Gallagher and Herbert Barnes, member of the planning commission and president of the Bucks County Industrial Development Corporation.

Bucks County Welcomes Nation's First Aero Industrial Development Company

Skyron Aero Industrial Park, the nation's first development of its kind, was welcomed to Bucks County yesterday by state and county officials and leaders of business and industry.

At a reception at the park site, located at the Doylestown airport, Marc E. Chaff, the young industrialist who is developing it, said more than 200 persons will be employed there in two years and 475 a year or two later. These figures referred to employment by Kenart Devices Corp., of Ozone Park, N.Y., of which Chaff is president. In addition, Chaff announced that he will make available in his Aero Industrial Park a laboratory for aviation electronics testing.

The tenant firms are expected to carry on largely research and engineering, and benefit by the aviation services.

County Authority
The airport will be maintained, to serve the plants and the community. It will be given to a county authority to operate if an authority should be formed. "The 28,138 company-owned

Old And New
Gordon R. Exley, 2d, executive director of the Bucks County Industrial Development Corporation, introduced Chaff as a man who "has the vision to try to marry the old with the new."

"We love your community," Chaff told the group, "and we'd like to make it our home. After a year of searching throughout the state of Pennsylvania we have found this to be the most ideal and perfectly situated area."

Chaff Welcomed
County Commissioners Edward B. Boyer and John J. Bodley welcomed Chaff in brief talks.

Gov. David L. Lawrence, invited to the meeting but unable to attend, sent a letter of congratulations and designated "Red" McFarland, state aeronautics director, to attend and represent him. Other state officials representing him were Mrs. Mary I. Devlin, deputy secretary of revenue; John F. Haron, plant location representative of the Department of Commerce; John Collins, director of administrative services of the Department of Labor and Industry and Charles Saltes, chief investigator for the Justice Department.

USW May Strike RR
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — With one rail stoppage settled, the Pittsburgh district today faced yet another, scheduled for Aug. 18.

The United Steelworkers Union (USW), which represents 1,500 non-operating personnel of the Union Railroad, a U.S. Steel subsidiary, served the strike notice Thursday.

Negotiators for the USW and the railroad met for four hours Friday with no results in their squabble over higher wages and other benefits. No further meetings are scheduled before Tuesday.

If the Union Railroad is struck, some 50,000 workers at seven U.S. Steel plants and 12 other industrial facilities would face the possibility of being furloughed.

Paul Hilbert, director of USW District 15, said after Friday's meeting that the railroad was trying to force a shutdown by refusing to grant its employees the provisions of the basic steel agreement, reached after a 116-day strike last January.

Bristol Motorcyclist Suffers Lacerations
Howard McLaughlin, Jr., 17, 677 Garden St., Bristol, suffered a compound fracture of his leg and severe lacerations last night when he was knocked from his motorcycle after brushing against an automobile last night at McKinley and Farragut Sts.

McLaughlin was taken to Delaware Valley Hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad,

Lower Bucks King Is Walking On Air

It's a dead ringer for a gray killer shark.

The boy from San Diego, Calif. has to get his six-foot five-inch frame in his car courtesy of a unique flip-top hood. That ought to be a first in Derby Downs. Well, the 23rd All-American is almost in the books. And, it's one for the books.

Having A Ball

If everyone here isn't having a ball — a rubber ball in the rubber city — it isn't Akron's fault.

Derby fever is high here at headquarters and at Derby Downs. Everyone has come down with the malady, but, buddy, no one's suffering.

Everyone's a champion here. There isn't anything less than that here. Win, lose or draw, Lower Bucks County has a real champion here.

They know doggone well we're here. Maybe by tomorrow, there'll be no doubt in anyone's mind.

International Beauty Named

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Miss Colombia, Stella Marquez, 21, who placed sixth in the Miss Universe beauty pageant last month in Miami Beach, Fla., today reigned as Miss International Beauty of 1961.

The brown-haired, brown-eyed psychology major edged out the Misses India, Iceland, England and United States of America Friday night to capture the title and the $10,000 first place prize money that went with it.

Miss Colombia, who speaks English, Spanish, Italian and French, will be crowned tonight in a special program that concludes the first annual Miss International Beauty contest, successor to the Miss Universe beauty pageant locally.

The South American beauty's victory was aided by a well-rounded 37½-24-37½ figure set on a 5 foot, 7 inch frame.

Runners-up in the contest in order were the Misses India, Iona Pinto, 18; Iceland, Sirry Geirsdottir, 22; England, Joyce Kay, 21, and U.S., Charlotte Lundberg, 19, of Joliet, Ill.

The five runners-up received at least $1,000 apiece in cash.

Representative Bell Named Senate Candidate

MEDIA, Pa. (UPI) — Republican State Representative Clarence D. Bell yesterday was named to succeed August Neimeyer as a candidate for the State Senate.

The selection was announced following a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Delaware County Republican Organization. Neimeyer recently pulled out of the race for the Senate seat because of illness.

The executive committee named Media attorney Barry Gibbons to succeed Bell as a candidate for the State House of Representatives.

Levittown Lions

To Take Barge Trip

The Levittown Lions will take a barge ride up the canal tomorrow at 4:45 p.m.

If it rains the trip will be cancelled. The Lions invited anyone interested to make the trip with them. The cost is $4 a couple.

The barge will leave from the foot of the main street in New Hope as you enter the town from the Lower Bucks area. Those coming will bring their own lunch.

Nixon Visits Maine On Campaign Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today carried his presidential campaign into Maine, a once-impregnable Republican stronghold that New Englander John F. Kennedy hopes to win.

At the urging of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, Nixon accepted an invitation to an afternoon and evening civic celebration in Portland commemorating the 200th anniversary of Cumberland County.

Before taking off, the GOP candidate planned to meet with his new "Scholars for Nixon" committee, a group formed to enlist academic leaders from the nation's colleges and universities in his campaign.

Nixon, meanwhile, mapped plans to invade another area of shifting political loyalties — the once-solid Democratic South. He will fly to Greensboro, N. C., Wednesday for a rally billed as "skating and coffee evening with Pat and Dick."

The candidate's wife, Pat, planned to accompany him on both the Maine and North Carolina trips.

In going to Portland, Nixon gambled that there would be no tie votes at the Senate's Saturday session on Democratic candidate

Pike Accident Kills Three

WILLIAMSTOWN, N.J. (AUG. 12) — Three Philadelphians, including J. Griffith Boardman, 55, a member of the Delaware River Port Authority and the City Board of Trustees, were killed instantly last night in a two-car head-on collision on the Black Horse Pike near here.

The other victims were Sal J. Ciavarella, 40, of 4201 Walnut St., driver of one car, and Mrs. Maxine Miller, 30, 4600 Spruce St., his passenger.

Shortly before the crash, police said they received a report of a car without lights traveling north on the southbound side of the pike. The north and south bound lanes are divided by a grass plot.

Car on Wrong Side?

Monroe Township Patrolman John Scheu and Samuel Spera quoted two witnesses as saying they saw the car on the wrong side but did not see the crash. The officers said the witnesses reported the incident to police before the collision occurred.

Police said Boardman was alone in his car and heading south when the autos met where Laurel Road intersects the pike.

trial," Powers told newsmen, adding that he hopes later today to see the Soviet attorney who has been assigned to defend his son.

"We were told in Washington that we will not be able to see our son, but we hope to see him anyway," Powers said.

Earlier, in London, he had said that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "has promised that he will do all he can to help us see our boy."

Mrs. Powers, showing signs of strain, was helped off the plane by Curie.

"We have been so worried all night we couldn't sleep," she said. From the airport, the Powers headed for the Sovetskaya Hotel, Moscow's most luxurious, where they plan to live during their stay here.

(The pilot's wife, Barbara, 25, left New York Friday night and was scheduled to stop briefly in Brussels today before going on to Moscow.)

The younger Mrs. Powers was accompanied by her mother, a physician and two Virginia lawyers.

"Before leaving New York Mrs. Powers told newsmen she did not believe her husband should be tried as a spy.

"He was merely a reconnaissance scout for our government," she said.

Young Powers will be 31 on Wednesday, the day his trial begins. Radio Moscow said Friday night the proceedings here will be in fact "the trial of those who sent the plane to the Soviet Union."
